2. General Information

2.1. Background

IFES is an independent, non-governmental organization providing professional support to electoral democracy. IFES supports citizens' rights to participate in free and fair elections. Our independent expertise strengthens electoral systems and builds local capacity to deliver sustainable solutions.

As the global leader in democracy promotion, we advance good governance and democratic rights by Providing technical assistance to election officials, Empowering the underrepresented to participate in electoral and political processes, and Applying field-based research to improve the electoral cycle.

Since 1987, IFES has worked in over 145 countries – from developing democracies, to mature democracies.

Young people represent a significant portion of Nepal's population, with 20.8 percent of the total population falling within the age group of 16 to 25, and an even more substantial 40.67 percent between the ages of 16 and 40. This demographic reality underscores the potential of youth as a powerful base of emerging leaders and advocates for positive change in Nepal. Recognizing this potential, there is a pressing need to empower and engage young leaders to actively participate in electoral and policy development processes.

In this context, the formation of a Youth Public Policy Network emerges as a critical initiative. This competitive solicitation aims to identify a youth-led Civil Society Organization (CSO) capable of spearheading the establishment and management of this network, which will be dedicated to empowering Nepal's youth in the area of electoral reform and policy development.

The Youth Public Policy Network aims to harness the energy, creativity, and aspirations of Nepali youth to actively engage in the democratic process. This initiative seeks to consolidate youth voices, enhance their capacity for leadership and advocacy, and facilitate dialogue and collaboration with key stakeholders, including the Election Commission Nepal and other decision-makers, to drive meaningful policy changes that reflect the needs and aspirations of the nation's youth.

The network will provide a platform for young leaders from diverse backgrounds to come together, access essential training in leadership and advocacy, and collaboratively develop action plans that promote inclusive policy development and electoral and political reform.

The purpose of this scope of work is to outline the requirements and expectations for a competitive solicitation to engage a CSO to establish and manage a Youth Public Policy Network in Nepal. This network will focus on empowering young leaders, providing training in leadership and advocacy skills, and developing action plans to promote inclusive electoral and political reform. All activities will be conducted in close coordination with IFES, including curriculum and materials development, work planning and outreach to external stakeholders.
