1999 General Election

The last parliamentary general election of the century will take place later this year with a citizens initiated referendum on the number of MPs in Parliament being held at the same time.

Over the next two months, New Zealand Post's Electoral Enrolment Centre (EEC) is undertaking a major re-enrolment campaign that will involve all registered electors re-enrolling and the electoral rolls being recompiled from scratch. This is to ensure the rolls used during the election are as up to date and accurate as possible. At the same time, EEC is undertaking a programme of activities to encourage unenrolled electors to enrol to vote in the election and referendum.

As you are an influential member of the community I am seeking your help to encourage people to make sure they are re-enrolled in time for the elections.

To raise awareness of the need for people to re-enrol now to have their say, I would appreciate it if you could help by strongly endorsing this message. To assist you to do this, an information kit is enclosed.

This kit is designed to assist you to spread the re-enrolment message. It contains useful information including:

- campaign summary
- timetable of key activities
- commonly asked questions and answers
- some enrolment forms
- a copy of the re-enrolment pack that will be sent to all registered voters
- a poster.

If you need more information, have any queries, or would like more enrolment forms, please contact your local Registrar of Electors. Alternatively, you can phone the Electoral Enrolment Centre toll free on 0800 ENROL NOW (0800 36 76 56) or check out our website at www.elections.org.nz.

You may have helped last year with encouraging enrolment for the Local Authority elections. Thank you for this support and for any help or involvement you can provide for this latest enrolment exercise.

Yours faithfully

CAMPAIGN SUMMARY AND TIMETABLE

Background

A general election will take place later this year with a citizens initiated referendum on the number of MPs in Parliament being held at the same time. This year's campaign will focus on raising awareness about the need for registered voters to re-enrol and for eligible electors to be enrolled to vote in the election and referendum.

The 1999 campaign has a number of key messages including:

- Every general election, the rolls start from scratch and every registered elector needs to re-enrol.
- You need to re-enrol - it's quick and easy to do.
- Check your enrolment details to ensure they're up to date – then sign, date and return your enrolment form.
- If you're not enrolled, you need to enrol to have your say in the general election and the referendum on the number of MPs in Parliament.
- Enrolment forms are available via a freephone 0800 ENROL NOW (0800 36 76 56), the EEC website www.elections.org.nz, and at Post Shops.

The re-enrolment and enrolment encouragement process

From 26 April, every registered elector will receive a re-enrolment pack which includes a copy of their current electoral details. Electors will need to check these details, make any changes, and then sign and return the re-enrolment form. Even if their details are correct, every elector must sign and return their form to re-enrol.

During the campaign, the EEC will also be encouraging eligible electors who aren't enrolled to enrol so they can have their say in the elections. This will include activities targeted at young people and ethnic groups who have traditionally been the hardest to encourage to enrol.

The last day for people to enrol or make changes for the preliminary roll is 25 June. Preliminary rolls will be available for inspection from 20 July at Post Shops and public libraries, with enrolment forms also available at these locations.

Building awareness

To raise awareness with targeted audiences, the campaign will focus on the following key activities:

- Local presentations by Registrars of Electors, targeting community groups including ethnic, special needs and youth groups.
- An extensive advertising campaign which will advise people that they need to be re-enrolled to vote in the elections and which encourages those who have not received a re-enrolment pack to contact 0800 ENROL NOW (0800 36 76 56) or fill in an enrolment form at any Post Shop.
- A public relations campaign targeting media, interest groups and influencers to encourage them to assist with taking the enrolment message into the wider community.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

RE-ENROLMENT

1. Why must I re-enrol?

Under the Electoral Act 1993, a full re-enrolment campaign must take place in a general election year to ensure the rolls used on Polling Day are as up to date as possible.

Every year many New Zealanders change address, occupation etc, and forget to advise their Registrar of Electors. The re-enrolment campaign aims to identify these changes and to update the rolls.

2. How do I re-enrol?

Simply check that your details on the re-enrolment form that has been sent to you are correct. Change any that need correcting, sign and date the form, and return it in the FreePost reply envelope provided.

3. When must my re-enrolment form be returned by?

To be included in the printed "Check-it" electoral roll, your form needs to be received by the Registrar of Electors by Friday 25 June 1999.

4. What happens if I don't re-enrol?

Every eligible elector is required by law to register. It is the Electoral Enrolment Centre's job to provide eligible electors with that opportunity. If you don't return your form, your name will not be included on the electoral roll and your vote may not count.

5. What happens when my form is received after the "Check-it" roll has closed for printing?

Your name will be included on the final roll used in polling places on Election day, but will not appear on the "Check-it" roll which is published earlier so that people can check their details have been correctly recorded. The Registrar of Electors will, however, confirm your enrolment to you in writing.

6. Can I still enrol after the Writ day rolls close?

Yes, you can still apply to be enrolled after the rolls close, but you will need to cast a special vote because your name will not appear on the printed roll that will be used on Election day.

7. What happens if you vote but are not enrolled?

It is likely that your vote won't count.

8. When does enrolling for the printed roll close?

There are two printed roll closure dates in a General election year. The first is for producing rolls for public checking ("Check-it" rolls). They close on 25 June. The second is for the printing of rolls to be used on polling day. They close for printing on Writ day.

9. When will the printed roll be available?

The "Check-it" rolls will be available for inspection from 20 July 1999.

10. Where can I look at electoral rolls?

All Registrars of Electors offices and National libraries have a full set of rolls. Post Shops, courthouses, branch libraries and local authority offices hold copies of the rolls for their area.

11. What is the Writ Day Roll?

This is the roll which closes on the day the Writ is issued and is used on Election day to "mark off" electors as they vote. This roll contains the names, residential address and occupation of all electors who have enrolled before Writ Day.

12. What is a Writ?

The Writ is the official notice issued by the Clerk of the Writs to the Returning Officers in each electorate instructing them that an election is to be held in their electorate. It is usually issued some 30 days before the election.

ENROLMENT

1. Who qualifies to apply for registration as an elector?

You are qualified to enrol if:

- you are 18 years or older, and
- are a New Zealand Citizen or permanent resident, and
- have lived in New Zealand for more than one year continuously at some time in your life.

There are some restrictions, which are listed on the enrolment form. Enrolment forms are available from Post Shops or by calling 0800 ENROL NOW (0800 36 76 56).

2. I am not yet enrolled. What do I do?

You need to complete an "Application for registration as a Parliamentary elector" form. If you are a New Zealand Maori or a Maori descendant, you can use this form to say whether you wish to be registered on the General or the Maori electoral roll.

3. What do I do with my completed enrolment form?

You can either drop it into any Post Shop or Registrar of Electors office, or you can mail it (no stamp postage required) to FreePost 2 Enrol, Electoral Enrolment Centre, PO Box 190, Wellington 6015.

4. Do I have to enrol?

You are required by law to enrol to be registered on the Parliamentary Electoral Roll. However, unlike some countries, Australia for example, voting is not compulsory in New Zealand.

5. Which electorate do I enrol for?

Generally, the electorate where you last lived for one month or more. However, if you are a student or someone who has had to move away from your home for work or study, you may still enrol at the address you call home even though you may have been away for more than one month.

6. I am 17 - can I enrol?

You can provisionally enrol at 17 years of age. When you turn 18 your name will automatically go onto the electoral roll.

7. What happens if I change address?

If you change address, you should notify your registrar of electors. This can be done by filling in a New Zealand Post mail redirection request at any Post Shop or Registrar of Elector's office. Alternatively, you can fill out a new enrolment form when you have lived at your new address for one month.

8. I am a Maori. Do I have to go on the Maori Roll?

Not necessarily. If you are enrolling as an elector for the first time then you can decide whether you want to go on the General roll or Maori roll by signing the appropriate panel on the enrolment form. If you have been enrolled before, you must re-enrol on the same roll type as you were previously enrolled on. The next opportunity for you to change roll types is during the next Maori Option which will be held in 2001.

9. I am on the Maori/General Roll and I wish to change. How can I do that?

A Maori Option exercise takes place every five years following the census. The next option will be held in 2001. Until then, you must remain on the Maori/General roll.

10. Are people who are in prison or psychiatric institutions entitled to enrol?

People who are in prison for a term of more than three years following a conviction for a criminal offence are not entitled to enrol while they are in prison. Those who have been in a psychiatric hospital for more than three years after being charged with a criminal offence are also ineligible. Other psychiatric patients are entitled to enrol.

11. Can one person enrol on behalf of another?

No, but anyone can fill in an enrolment form for another person, providing the ELECTOR signs the form. There are also provisions for electors who are physically disabled or mentally incapable of signing.

12. What about people who are unable to sign or complete an enrolment form?

If a person is physically unable to sign, any registered elector may sign on their behalf as long as they write on the form "Elector physically disabled, signed by their direction". People who hold a Power of Attorney must sign and state "Elector physically disabled, Power of Attorney".

If a person is regarded as mentally incapable of completing an enrolment form, it can be completed on their behalf by:

- any registered elector, or
- an appointed welfare guardian, or
- an attorney appointed by that person.

In addition to the enrolment form, a separate form (ROE1A) must also be filled in stating why the enrolment form has been completed on behalf of the elector. Both forms are available from a Registrar of Electors or by calling 0800 ENROL NOW (0800 36 76 56).

13. I want to enrol but I don't want my ex-spouse/partner to find out where I live. What can I do?

Under the Electoral Act, a confidential unpublished roll is available for people in life threatening situations. You can apply to have your name listed on the unpublished roll by writing to: FreePost 2 Enrol, Chief Registrar of Electors, PO Box 190, Wellington 6015, stating your case and enclosing any supporting evidence you may have, eg, a protection order, restraining order, letter from police/solicitor. You do not need to use a postage stamp when sending this information. The Chief Registrar of Electors will reply quickly to your request.

14. During the year I spend half my time at my beach cottage and other half in the city, or, I spend the working week in the city and return to my family for weekends. Where should I enrol?

You should enrol at the address which you regard as your home.

15. I am a student in another city, where should I enrol?

You should enrol at the address which you regard as your home.
