Election Edition – November 7, 2000

George W. Bush - the Next President of the United States!

As governor of Texas, George Bush has spent the last six years eliminating the excesses of previous administrations and working to return power back to the citizens. If elected president, George Bush will continue these efforts and usher in a new era of accountability and responsibility throughout the country.

As governor, George Bush rewrote the state's education curriculum to insist on academic basics, and strengthened the state's accountability system to measure student performance. As president, George Bush will continue these efforts by setting high standards and giving states more freedom from federal regulation. Children in grades 3-8 will be tested annually to ensure that they are learning the necessary skills to succeed in the future. Schools that have achieved these standards will be rewarded and those that fail will be held accountable. Parents will have more options when their children are trapped in failing schools.

Governor Bush has also been responsible for the two largest tax cuts in Texas history totaling over $3 billion. This includes a $2.38 billion tax cut on school property tax, $345 million in consumer sales tax cuts and $464 million in business tax cuts to spur economic growth. He cut the growth of state spending to its lowest rate in 40 years with an increase of only 3.6 percent from 1994 to the end of 2001.

If elected, George Bush will return one-quarter of the surplus to the taxpayers who earned it. He will double the child tax credit from $500 to $1,000 per child. Governor Bush will also eliminate the death tax, reduce the marriage penalty and expand Education Savings Accounts and charitable deductions. The largest percentage cuts will go to the lowest income earners and, as a result, 6 million families will no longer pay federal income tax.

To keep Social Security

solvent for the next generation, Governor Bush will lead an effort to reform the system by allowing individuals the option of voluntarily investing a portion of their payroll taxes in personal retirement accounts.

As president, George Bush will raise the quality of health care in America, providing those uninsured with access to health care by making health insurance more affordable. He will also work towards improving the services provided by Medicare, giving seniors a greater choice in plans with more options, including coverage for annual physicals and eye, hearing and dental care. Seniors will be provided with immediate assistance for drug coverage. Any health plan participating in Medicare will be required to offer prescription drug coverage, including free coverage for low-income seniors.

Governor Bush will restore pride and integrity to our nation's military, working to meet the needs of the ever-changing face of global politics, as well as helping our servicemen and women in times of peace. He will work to protect America with an effective national missile defense, as well as changing how America responds to international crises.

Governor George Bush will return morality and honor to the office of the President. Governor Bush knows that it is time for change in America. And he welcomes the opportunity to enact this change.

Chairman's Report to the Voters

We are in the homestretch of the historic 2000 Presidential campaign, and I am most pleased to report that George W. Bush and Dick Cheney are leading their opponents in Fairfax County and should lead our GOP ticket to a complete sweep next month. In addition, George Allen is successfully challenging – and beating – Chuck Robb on his own home turf, and both Frank Wolf and Tom Davis are heading toward wins with little opposition. Furthermore, our Eighth Congressional District candidate, Demaris Miller, is conducting a hard-fought campaign against entrenched incumbent Jim Moran and is positioned to score a major upset in the closing days.

The Republican successes in Fairfax County next month will lead Virginia in bringing back conservative, common-sense government in both a Republican White House and a Republican Congress for the first time in almost fifty years. The Republican message of more opportunities, lower taxes, smaller government, and stronger, safer families is resonating throughout Northern Virginia.

The Republican precept that we are a government of the people, by the people, and for the people will succeed this year against the liberal notion that more government is the answer for all ills. We also intend to prove that, contrary to liberals' contentions, more efficient government and empowerment of all through loosening the bonds of government leads to prosperity for all Americans.

Joseph P. Underwood, Chairman,
Fairfax County Republican Committee

The Fairfax County Republican Party is excited about this year's elections. We have a powerful GOP ticket and thousands of Party activists are working hard to deliver a GOP sweep in Fairfax County on Election Day. The stakes have not been higher, nor have our workers been as motivated, in many years.

Thousands of Republican grassroots volunteers have been working this year in Fairfax County to deliver the vote for strong, principled, and moral leadership back to the White House, and to strengthen our GOP majorities in both Houses of Congress. If this doesn't excite our local Republican activists and voters this year, I can't imagine what would!

In several days, the 2000 campaign season will be behind us. Many have predicted that this year's presidential bid will have among the lowest voter turnout in the history of presidential politics. I strongly believe that the Party with the best "get out the vote" efforts will win this year's elections. With predictions that this may well be the closest presidential election in our country's history, every vote will count, and we intend to win that battle!

However, your support of this great Republican team is more important than ever. We cannot stand idly by and hope that our country will return to good, sound, and moral leadership without our participation. We must all do our part!

Please vote on November 7th – and join us in bringing our winning GOP message of lower taxes, more opportunities, less government, and stronger, safer families back to both the White House and Capitol Hill!

Let's return America back to the people – not to the larger, more-intrusive government of the Democrats. As Ronald Reagan said, "Our best is yet to come."

George Allen for Senate Campaign

When I campaigned for Governor in 1993, I made a series of specific promises to the people of Virginia. Working together across party lines, we kept those promises.

We abolished parole and took gun-wielding criminals off the streets. We increased spending on our public schools by a record $2 billion, reduced class sizes, and raised academic standards for both teachers and students. We reformed welfare to emphasize the work ethic and individual responsibility. We attracted record business investment and Virginia earned a new reputation as the Silicon Dominion with all of the technology companies that located and expanded here. And we reduced the tax burden on working families and senior citizens.

Now, I am asking you for the opportunity to serve again, this time in the United States Senate.

Education is the key to unlocking our children's promise and preparing them for the opportunities that await them in this new century: a Champion Schools Agenda to reduce class size; an Early Reading Initiative; and a public-private partnership to finance school construction. I've also proposed a $1,000 per child Education Opportunity Tax Credit for educational expenses other than tuition, including computers, educational software, reference materials, and tutors.

We must raise our national defense funding to a level adequate to meet existing and future threats and provide our troops with the best, most technologically advanced equipment when they are defending our freedoms and interests. The very serious and aggravating transportation problems of this region affect the quality of life for just about everyone in Northern Virginia. During my administration, we stopped the raids on Virginia's Transportation Trust Fund and secured a fairer return of the gasoline tax revenues Virginia sends to Washington. With these added resources, we had more roads under construction and being maintained than ever before. We helped fund the Fairfax County Parkway, widened I-66, and completed the HOV lane extension along I-95, for example. We secured the agreements and expanded VRE and, keeping a promise I made in 1993, we changed

I-66 inside the Beltway from HOV-3 to HOV-2.

But clearly, it's not enough. Daily gridlock drains drivers and robs families of time they should be spending together. Virginia needs focused, engaged leadership in Congress to make sure that sorely needed projects such as rail to Dulles — a project we started while I was Governor — are built in a timely fashion.

Technology is positively transforming our entire economy, and our transportation network is no exception. I have been working with Congressman Frank Wolf to persuade the President to support telework options for federal employees. Allowing workers who don't need to be in the office every day to telecommute over the information superhighway is an environmentally friendly, family friendly way to reduce congestion on our roads.

Finally, part of the record surpluses should be used to make our tax code less burdensome and more fair. We can begin by eliminating the marriage penalty tax and death taxes. There are those who will claim that returning some of this surplus to the people whose hard work produced it is "too risky." I would remind them of our record in Virginia, where we have reduced the tax burden on working families and senior citizens and are phasing out the car tax while balancing our budget and enjoying record growth. To me, what is truly risky is leaving those unspent surplus dollars in Washington, because the politicians will surely spend them.

As your Senator, you can count on me to be there working for you to get Northern Virginia moving again and to make Virginia and America a better, safer, more prosperous place to live, learn, work and raise our families. I give you my word that, if I am given the honor and responsibility of representing you in the United States Senate, I will work tirelessly to be a Senator you can trust and of whom you can be proud.

Congressman Frank Wolf – 10th Congressional District

Congressman Frank Wolf has been a tireless advocate for the needs of residents of the 10th District and has always done it with the highest integrity. He promises to continue to serve the 10th District in this manner.

Frank is one of only a handful of members of Congress who send their full voting record to every constituent every year. Since being re-elected with an overwhelming majority of the vote in 1998, Frank Wolf has continued to build on his outstanding record of service to the 10th District and to the nation including:

- Creating a Social Security lockbox and voting to eliminate the Social Security tax penalty for people ages 65-69
- Voting to send more federal education dollars to the classroom where they will most benefit our children
- Securing federal funds to bring mass transit to Dulles Airport
- Obtaining additional federal funds for the new Woodrow Wilson Bridge

Tenth District Congressman
Frank Wolf

- Initiating efforts to widen I-66 inside the Beltway
- Promoting telework to take

cars off the road, ease congestion, and give workers more time to spend with their family and friends

- Protecting pay and for active and retired federal employees.

Additionally, Frank is stressing the importance of this year's elections for Virginia and for the nation. "This is a landmark year," said Frank. "We have the opportunity to elect George W. Bush as our next president, Dick Cheney as our next vice-president, and George Allen as the next Senator from Virginia. Who we elect will make a real difference in the world."

Frank is extremely grateful for all of the support he has received during his service in Congress and looks forward to working for the people of the 10th District in the 107th Congress. For more information about Representative Wolf's campaign, see his website on the Internet at www.wolfforcongress.org or stop by his campaign headquarters at 9410 Main St., Manassas, Virginia, 703-393-9903.

Congressman Tom Davis – 11th Congressional District

Eleventh District Representative
Thomas M. Davis III

Since he was elected to Congress in 1994, Tom Davis has overwhelming support in Virginia's 11th District because he has steadfastly worked to improve the quality of life of all of his constituents. He is a strong advocate for the rights of federal employees and contractors, an expert in information technology and procurement policy, and has played a pivotal role in getting the District of Columbia back on solid financial ground.

Tom knows that easing traffic gridlock is among Northern Virginians' top concerns, so he led the fight to secure $1.5 billion in federal funds for a new Woodrow Wilson Bridge. He also has secured hundreds of millions for other local projects as well – including Bus Rapid Transit along the Dulles Corridor, improvements to VRE stations and tracks, and fleet replacement and maintenance for local bus service.

Tom also has seen to it that 11th District schools receive their share of federal dollars, while allowing local school districts to decide how to best spend that money.

A fiscal conservative, Tom has been a driving force behind efforts to balance the budget, pay down the debt, and secure Medicare and Social Security. He has fought to share some the government's record surplus with Virginians who helped create it, in the form of targeted tax cuts, like death tax elimination and marriage penalty repeal.

Tom is a leader in shepherding legislation aimed at promoting the growth of information technology – the engine that is driving the nation's economy. He has had the foresight to understand that the Information Age has brought with it an array of new challenges and threats. He introduced the Cyber Security Information Act of 2000 to encourage the private sector to share cyber security information with the government to protect our nation's critical infrastructure.

Once again, Tom has fought for the rights of federal employees. In April 2000, he introduced legislation that will make health insurance more affordable for all employees of the federal government and their spouses. He also was overjoyed when the Administration finally heeded his call to offer transit benefits to all federal employees, as well as to increase carpool benefits, encourage bicycling and walking, provide shuttle services between mass transit points and agency work sites, and expand the use of telecommuting.

Finally, Tom believes the "Medicare Rx 2000 Act," passed by the House on June 28, is the right way to go on the prescription drug coverage issue. This legislation would make comprehensive prescription drug coverage available to every senior citizen across the country.

In conclusion, it's important to note that Tom's election as chair of the National Republican Congressional Committee in November 1998 has paid big dividends for the residents of Virginia's 11th District. His leadership position ensures that his concerns are heard and the interests of his constituents are protected. Come visit Tom at his campaign office: 9001 Braddock Road, Ste. #226, Springfield, VA 22151, (703) 250-0096 or on the web at www.tomdavis.org

Demaris Miller - Candidate for the 8th Congressional District

The Miller campaign is going "gangbusters." This is "grassroots" campaigning at its best – and it is working! Demaris has trounced her opponent in their debates. He has had a terrible time defending his poor record and Demaris has had a wonderful time defending her plans and the Bush/Allen/Miller platform. Please check Demaris' website (www.demaris-miller.com) and try to come to one of the many debates.

Demaris is continuing her door-to-door literature drops and meeting voters at metro stops and grocery stores. It is hard to describe how well these are going. Demaris, with a volunteer, has met these voters and personally handed out almost 30,000 palm cards. And the response has been heartwarming. The sign war is underway. Everywhere she goes, people want Republican signs.

But none of this is possible without your help. If you can work a grocery store or Metro stop with Demaris, or drop literature in a neighborhood, or if you could use a sign in your yard, please contact the campaign at 703-356-3695.

Voter ID Requirement

Virginia voters are reminded that legislation adopted this year by the Virginia General Assembly requires them to provide identification (ID) at the polls or to sign an Affirmation of Identity in order to vote.

Acceptable forms of identification include the following:

- Virginia Voter Information Card
- Virginia driver's license or special identification card issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles
- Valid United States passport

- Military ID card
- Any Federal, state or local government-issued ID card
- Employer-issued photo ID card
- Social Security card

A voter who fails to bring acceptable ID to the polls may still vote after signing, under oath, an Affirmation of Identity, which is the voter's certification in writing that the name and address information provided to the election officials at the polling place is correct.

Proposed Constitutional Amendments on the November 7, 2000 General Election Ballot

Proposed Constitutional Amendment 1.

LOTTERY PROCEEDS FUND

Shall the Constitution of Virginia be amended to provide for a Lottery Proceeds Fund and the distribution of net lottery revenues to the localities to spend for public education purposes?

Proposed Constitutional Amendment 2.

RIGHT TO HUNT, FISH, AND HARVEST GAME

Shall the Constitution of Virginia be amended by adding a provision concerning the right of the people to hunt, fish, and harvest game?

The Fairfax County Republican Committee endorses passage of both of these amendments.

I am a Republican Because...

- ✓ I believe the strength of our nation lies with the individual and that each person's dignity, freedom, ability and responsibility must be honored.
- ✓ I believe in equal rights, equal justice and equal opportunity for all, regardless of race, creed, sex, age or disability.
- ✓ I believe free enterprise and encouraging individual initiative have brought this nation opportunity, economic growth and prosperity.
- ✓ I believe government must practice fiscal responsibility and allow individuals to keep more of the money they earn.
- ✓ I believe the proper role of government is to provide for the people only those critical functions that cannot be performed by individuals or private organizations and that the best government is that which governs least.
- ✓ I believe the most effective, responsible and responsive government is government closest to the people
- ✓ I believe Americans must retain the principles that have made us strong while developing new and innovative ideas to meet the challenges of changing times
- ✓ I believe Americans value and should preserve our national strength and pride while working to extend peace, freedom and human rights throughout the world
- ✓ Finally, I believe the Republican Party is the best vehicle for translating these ideals into positive and successful principles of government

How Important is One Vote?

- In 1645, one vote gave Oliver Cromwell control of England.
- In 1649, one vote caused Charles I of England to be executed.
- In 1776, one vote gave America the English language instead of German.
- In 1824, one vote gave John Quincy Adams the presidency in a dead-lock between Adams and Andrew Jackson.
- In 1845, one vote brought Texas into the Union.
- In 1868, one vote saved President Andrew Johnson from impeachment.
- In 1876, one vote changed France from a monarchy to a republic.
- In 1876, one vote gave Rutherford B. Hayes the presidency of the United States (over Samuel Tilden).
- In 1923, one vote gave Adolf Hitler leadership of the Nazi Party.
- In 1941, one vote saved selective service – just weeks before Pearl Harbor.
- In 1960, Richard Nixon lost 3 states by a total of less than 1 vote per precinct, giving John F. Kennedy the presidency.
- In 1964, Paul Laxalt lost a Senate election in Nevada by just 48. When he won his Senate seat in 1974, it was by a margin of just 624 votes.
- In 1976, Gerald Ford lost to Jimmy Carter in the State of Ohio, and therefore the Presidential race, by less than one vote per precinct.
- And, in 1991, Republican challenger, Dave Sanders, lost the election in Virginia's 53rd Legislative District against Democrat Jim Scott by just one vote!

Well, how important is that one vote?
