MYANMAR 2015 NATIONAL ELECTIONS

ELECTION DAY

Upper House
- 224 Total Representatives
- 168 seats elected in 2015 Elections
- 56 seats appointed by Commander-in-Chief from military

Lower House
- 440 Total Representatives
- 110 seats appointed by Commander-in-Chief from military
- 330 seats elected in 2015 Elections

AFTER ELECTION DAY

Electoral College is formed with:
- Elected representatives of the Upper House
- Appointed military representatives to the Upper and Lower House
- Elected representatives of the Lower House

Candidate for presidency is nominated

President and Vice Presidents
Both houses of parliament will hold elections to vote for the candidates. The candidate with the most votes will become the president and the other two candidates will become vice presidents.