What They're Saying About Project Vote Smart	78

Hello from the Great Divide Ranch!

This edition of the Voter's Self-Defense Manual is being published as Project Vote Smart settles into our new home, which is nestled among trees, lakes, rivers and the Rocky Mountains. The setting is exceptionally beautiful, with exciting opportunities for world-class fishing and skiing, hiking and horseback riding. But what we find most exciting is what this means in the struggle to return control of the American political process to the hands of citizens.

Here in the wilderness, we--volunteers, students, and staff members--continue in the momentous task of compiling the data millions of thoughtful Americans like you need in order to make informed voting choices. In this manual, you will be treated to a sampling of the information available on our Voter's Research Hotline (1-888-VOTE SMART) and the Vote Smart Web (www.vote-smart.org). Contact information, voting records, job performance evaluations and campaign finance information for members of Congress, an explanation of what the Project is, what it does, and how Project Vote Smart can help you, can all be found in these pages. We will tell you about our new facility and the opportunities available to Americans young and old, conservative and liberal, to make a difference at the Great Divide Ranch.

LIFE AT THE GREAT DIVIDE RANCH

None of this could be accomplished without the wonderful support of our members, whose amazing generosity has made every bit of this possible. Not only have they given almost $160,000 in special gifts to help build our primary research facility, they have given of themselves, coming out just to say hi or to stay for two weeks and work on the difficult job of gathering data on candidates and issues.

Staff and interns grab a quick game of volleyball before heading back to the office.

We hope you find this Voter's Self-Defense Manual useful and important, and we hope you enjoy a look at what our 50,000 members, students and volunteers have accomplished.

Staff and volunteers man the Voter's Self-Defense Manual hotline, answering questions about the 12,000 candidates Project Vote Smart.

Just another day in paradise

Project Vote Smart's Great Divide Ranch is an extraordinary place of exquisite natural beauty located in the snowcapped mountains of Montana. Surrounded by national forest, the Ranch boasts world-class trout fishing on Rock Creek, which flows freely through fields teeming with wildlife. When they visit our new facility, most visitors catch a glimpse of the moose, elk and other native inhabitants who share the Ranch with Project Vote Smart. The permanent staff who live at the ranch, inspired by the natural beauty and abundance of the property, are committed to preserving and protecting this incredible setting. This is how both conservatives and liberals who join the staff as volunteers at our new research facility are rewarded for doing the enormously difficult work necessary to defend the people's right to relevant, accurate information--the information that is essential in our struggle as a society to self-govern successfully. But most important, it is also one of the nation's most prestigious political research centers, where millions of Americans now turn to get reliable, factual information on thousands of candidates and issues.

Student Interns help with all aspects of Project Vote Smart, from answering hotline questions to working on the National Political Awareness Center.

An experience you will always remember

During this election cycle, hundreds of students and volunteers from throughout the country will gather at the Ranch to undertake the exhausting task of researching candidates' backgrounds, voting records, campaign finance data, and thousands of other relevant details about the over 12,000 candidates vying for the jobs as our elected public servants. The work is seemingly endless and agonizing, quite possibly the most monotonous work you could imagine. It is a task that students and volunteers must stick to hour after hour, week after week, without quitting after months of effort, knowing that we can ill afford to pay them. Their reward is the simple notion that if you are willing to work for the Project, you may have to work like never before, but you will leave Project Vote Smart with the knowledge that the experience you had will be one you cherish for the rest of your life. Once students and volunteers leave the Ranch, they know that the job they did was appreciated by the millions of thoughtful Americans who depend on Project Vote Smart for accurate, abundant, factual information about the elected officials who create and change the laws by which we are governed.

otionally instead of engaging them intellectually. If we succeed, Americans will experience a re-emergence of political power unknown to them for many decades. Tolerance will no longer be the only weapon available to Americans tormented by the issueless, mudslinging politics that now dominate political elections and decisions.

Student and member interns give an extraordinary gift—to their families, their communities, and their country. By serving an internship at Project Vote Smart, members and students alike help strengthen the

Finding Common Ground

The Great Divide Ranch, at One Common Ground, Philipsburg MT, is a place where we join all American citizens in a momentous task within an historical battle. It is a battle to wrestle control of our political process from those who have learned to camouflage candidates and manipulate voters emoprecious fabric of our representative democracy--and immeasurably enrich their own lives. Their contributions make publications like this one possible.

The job, the people...

Interns do in-the-trenches, hard, often monotonous work, and lots of it. They learn the real dangers that incivility and cynicism pose to the modern political arena. But the war waged against these dangers is fought in a place of unbelievable beauty.

The work is tedious and the hours are sometimes long, but volunteers and interns never work alone. Other interns, young and old, all creeds and colors, work alongside one another. Nowhere else in the world is there a work environment so solid in common purpose and so rich in diversity.

People from all walks of life serve internships with us to learn more about how our political system works and to preserve the foundation of democracy--access to free, relevant, accurate, unbiased information.

PVS proves you can telecommute from anywhere!

At our Great Divide Ranch main office, interns experience the unique combination of the Wild West and the World Wide Web that allows us to be fully involved nationwide from the mountains of Montana. In our Boston office, interns live and work in the excitement of a metropolis. In either location, you are building a resource that allows every voter to be informed. You are giving and learning at the same time.

VOTE SMART WEB

<http://www.vote-smart.org>

The Vote Smart Web includes the Project's unique, extensive database on elected officials and candidates, plus congressional legislation and links to issue-oriented news and government sites. Best of all, it's free and researcher-assisted through our toll-free hotline. Call 1-888-VOTE-SMART.

VOTER'S RESEARCH HOTLINE 1-888-VOTE-SMART

Our Hotline staff can give you relevant, detailed information about your candidates and elected officials...

- ★ voting records in key issue areas
- ★ contact info & biographical details
- ★ political history
- ★ performance evaluations by more than 80 liberal-to-conservative interest groups
- ★ campaign finance contributions
- ★ responses to the NPAT-campaign issue position statements from candidates

NATIONAL POLITICAL AWARENESS TEST (NPAT)

The NPAT is the ultimate tool for avoiding empty political rhetoric and mudslinging and ensuring accountability from your elected officials. We gather the responses of 12,000 candidates for president, Congress and state gubernatorial and legislative offices to questions on issues they will face if elected. Call the Hotline or visit the Vote Smart Web to discover candidates' views.

NATIONAL INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

Scholarship funding enables college students from across the nation to work at the Project's offices in Montana and Boston. Students get a unique perspective on practical politics while making a positive impact on the American political system. Just call 406-859-VOTE (8683) for more information on becoming a national or member intern.

REPORTER'S SERVICES: 406-859-8690

The Reporter's Resource Center provides free research, reference and referral services for political reporters nationwide at 406-859-8690. The Reporter's Source Book is the essential guidebook for journalists, providing more than 10,000 reporters with a concise overview of national issues and a "golden Rolodex" of expert sources. Congressional Snapshots are free, quick reports on the job performance of your Congressional delegation. Your local newspaper or radio station can feature Snapshots on YOUR delegates by calling 406-859-8690.

FREE PUBLICATIONS

A sampling of the information available through Project Vote Smart, the Voter's Self-Defense Manual contains congressional members' contact information, performance evaluations, voting records, & campaign contributions, as well as a copy of the NPAT. The Vote Smart Web Yellow Pages is designed to put Project Vote Smart's vast internet resources at your fingertips. It organizes and categorizes all the best political information on the Internet. Now you can go directly to what you want without wading through lengthy searches and confusing web links. In addition, you may order a 3' by 5' Vote Smart banner, or a video about the Project.

We're here to help you

The Voter's Self-Defense System is a crucial weapon in our struggle to self-govern. The information our interns, volunteers and staff so painstakingly and meticulously gather, forms a foundation of knowledge that affords citizens the opportunity to make decisions about their government based on the issues, rather than attack ads and sound bites.

We are nonprofit and rigorously nonpartisan. Project Vote Smart neither endorses nor opposes any candidate or issue. In order to join our Founding Board, PVS supporters must join with a political enemy. The Founding Board included George McGovern and Barry Goldwater, Mark Hatfield and Geraldine Ferraro, and forty other prominent national leaders. To ensure absolute independence and integrity, the Project refuses all corporate and special interest group contributions. We depend solely on donations from members and philanthropic foundations.

Help us if you can

The information we make available is honest, fair and always accurate. Best of all, it's provided free, as a gift to our fellow Americans from the members of Project Vote Smart. Help us if you can, but NEVER hesitate to use the Project's services and materials as you seek to find the truth about those who wish to govern us.

To get started, imagine you are hiring someone for a job. What would you want to know? Their work history, education, past performance, who their references are? In the Voter's Self-Defense System, U.S. senators' and representatives' phone numbers and addresses are included in this manual in case you want to ask questions or give them some instructions. You can also find this information on the Vote Smart Web or by calling our Voter's Research Hotline, as well as all you'd want to know about your state legislators and gubernatorial candidates. During elections, we will even interview the candidates for you, through the National Political Awareness Test, with questions that are issue-oriented and afford no "wiggle room."

FIND THE ANSWERS YOU NEED

Call 1-888-VOTE SMART and talk to your own personal Voter's Hotline researcher. It's a free service provided to you by the 50,000 members of Project Vote Smart. Or do your own investigation on the Vote Smart Web, www.vote-smart.org.

Help us if you can, but even if you can't, don't ever hesitate to use us!

Over 3,000 of your fellow Americans have contributed their time and expertise to make this free Voter's Self-Defense System possible. Over 50,000 citizens have given those volunteers and students small contributions necessary to buy the materials required to do the job. It is a momentous gathering: citizens, statesmen, conservatives and liberals joining together to ensure that tolerance will no longer be the only weapon available to those of us tormented by the issueless mudslinging that now dominates political elections and decisions.

It is a struggle for the most precious element in our efforts to self-govern:
ABUNDANT, ACCURATE, RELEVANT INFORMATION
about those who govern us or those who wish to replace those who do.

This Voter's Self-Defense Manual represents a tiny portion of our efforts. If you are one of those Americans who understands how crucial it is that we as citizens take a stand, recapture control of the political process, and ensure that all of us have access to the facts and not just the rhetoric, then PLEASE HELP US, either by returning the enclosed business reply card or by sending back the form below.

CANDIDATES FOR PRESIDENT

The 2000 Election

The 2000 election year provides a unique opportunity for American citizens to reclaim their ability to self-govern, and in our democracy no power is more decisive than dependable and accurate information. As you read this, Project Vote Smart interns and volunteers are gathering more information on the people asking you to make them the next President of the United States. By calling the Project Vote Smart Voter's Research Hotline (1-888-VOTE-SMART), or connecting to the Vote Smart Web (www.vote-smart.org), you can access biographical, political background and campaign finance information on the candidates. You can also access voting records and special interest group performance evaluations for those candidates who have served as members of Congress.

statements

Public

For even more in-depth information, you can now view the text of hundreds of public statements--speeches, interviews and position papers--given by presidential candidates.

These statements are searchable by key word and phrase so that if you are looking for the positions of a particular candidate--or of certain candidates--you can call up only those speeches you are interested in reading. Go to www.vote-smart.org to try it out!

Internet

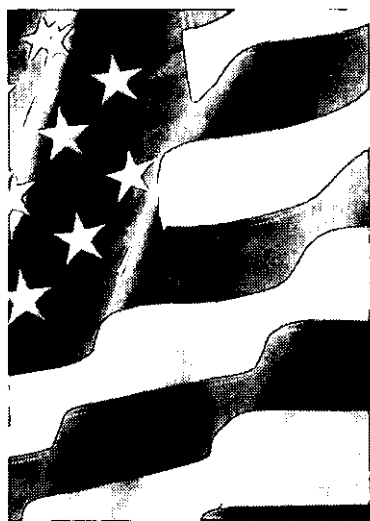

More so than in any other year, candidates have their own websites. You can access these directly from links on our candidate pages, or you can call our Voter's Research Hotline to ask for specific candidates' websites.

test

The Presidential National Political Awareness Test, which is designed by political scientists and national political leaders, has been sent to candidates. More presidential candidates than ever before have done the right and honorable thing by providing voters information that is essential if they are to self-govern successfully. You can view their responses on the Vote Smart Web, or you may call the Voter's Research Hotline to ask how a candidate responded to a particular question on the test. See pages 11-17 for more information, a list of all the issues addressed on the NPAT, and a sampling of questions from the 2000 Presidential NPAT.

For contact information on the candidates, we urge you to visit our website (www.vote-smart.org) or call our Voter's Research Hotline (1-888-VOTE-SMART) for up-to-date candidate information.

THE NATIONAL POLITICAL AWARENESS TEST

The National Political Awareness Test (NPAT) is the key component of Project Vote Smart's Voter's Self-Defense System. The NPAT is taken by all candidates and is designed to evaluate their willingness to do the right and honorable thing by providing voters with the information that is essential if they are to self-govern successfully. It tests candidates' willingness to help voters get some sense of the issue inclinations of the candidates who want to represent them, right at the point when voters need the most help, and right when candidates are asking for the public's vote. The NPAT simply indicates a candidate's general inclinations on the issues he or she will most likely be confronted with if elected.

The NPAT has been constructed over the past nine years by 227 of the nation's most prominent political scientists, journalists and national leaders, including all members of the Project Vote Smart Founding Board. Through our partnerships with CNN, NBC, PBS, FOX, MTV, C-SPAN, Washington Week in Review, Knight Ridder, National Journal, 450 other local news organizations, and 3,018 libraries, the NPAT results are disseminated to millions of citizens.

The NPAT is sent to all congressional, gubernatorial and state legislative candidates shortly after each state's primary. During the presidential election year, a special Presidential NPAT is sent to all primary and general election candidates. The gubernatorial and legislative NPATs are focused on the issues that are important in each state. Candidates have four to six weeks to respond to the test. After the deadline for returning the NPAT, the responses are data entered and checked for accuracy, and Project Vote Smart board members hold news conferences in each state capitol to announce the results and availability of the information as a resource for voters. Candidates who make a good-faith effort to answer at least 70% of the test are recognized and honored for their willingness to expose themselves to opposition research and mudslinging attacks in order to help voters.

NPAT

A key to political accountability is the NPAT. The NPAT will help you find out how candidates stand on the issues they will face if elected.

THE PRESIDENTIAL NPAT

Following is a list of the specific issues covered in the 2000 Presidential National Political Awareness Test, sample questions from the presidential NPAT, a description of the information available on each candidate running for president as of January 1, 2000, and the results of the 2000 Presidential NPAT.

WHICH ISSUES ARE ADDRESSED BY THE NPAT?

This Presidential NPAT has been intensively researched, written and reviewed by 84 leading political scientists, members of the national media, and the Project's entire Founding Board. The issues included in the NPAT are only those that are both consistently the top concerns of the American people and also likely to come up in the next Congress. They are determined by examining every national poll in the last three years, the majority, minority and third party platforms, State of the Union and Response speeches, the congressional leadership and executive branch agendas, and by consulting with prominent national political journalists and political scientists. Issues covered in the 2000 Presidential NPAT include:

- ★ Abortion
- ★ Budgetary Priorities
- ★ Balanced Budget
- ★ Defense Spending
- ★ Budget Surplus Spending Priorities
- ★ Taxes, Tax Deductions and Tax Credits
- ★ Campaign Finance
- ★ Crime and Juvenile Crime
- ★ Civil Rights
- ★ Illegal Drugs
- ★ Education (K-12)
- ★ Higher Education
- ★ Religion and Public Schools
- ★ Employment and Unemployment
- ★ Affirmative Action
- ★ Environmental Issues
- ★ Gun Ownership and Gun Control

- ★ Immigration and Citizenship
- ★ International Aid
- ★ International Policy
- ★ International Trade
- ★ Moral and Ethical Issues
- ★ Social Security
- ★ Technology and the Internet
- ★ Welfare and Poverty
- ★ Top Presidential Priorities

For the candidates' positions and statements on these important issues, go to the Vote Smart Web (www.vote-smart.org) or call the toll-free Voter's Research Hotline (1-888-VOTE-SMART). You can answer the NPAT questions yourself, and then compare your own positions with those of the candidates. If you have questions about the NPAT, call our researchers on the Hotline (1-888-VOTE-SMART.)

Sample questions from four of the issue areas covered in the 2000 Presidential National Political Awareness Test. For complete test and candidate responses go to the Vote Smart Web (www.vote-smart.org) or call the toll-free Voter's Research Hotline (1-888-VOTE-SMART).

In the summer and fall of 2000, every Congressional, Gubernatorial, and State Legislative candidate across the country will be sent the National Political Awareness Test specific for their state and race. For copies of these NPATs and candidate results, visit the Vote Smart Web (www.vote-smart.org) or call our Voter's Research Hotline (1-888-VOTE SMART).

* Although Candidate Keyes did not meet the official deadline, his responses were accepted late.

Campaign Finance

Where do candidates get the money to run for office? The information in this section is designed to help answer that question and was provided by the Center for Responsive Politics (www.opensecrets.org). It is the most complete finance information available at press time. We have tried to present the data in a clear and functional format, but if you have any questions, please call our Voter's Research Hotline at 1-888-VOTE SMART.

Unless indicated by an asterisk (*), the first three categories--total contributions, total individual contributions, and total political action committee contributions--represent the years 1993 through 1998. The other three categories--each dealing with specific groups of PACs--represent the 1997-1998 cycle.

Campaign Finance Information

- TOTAL CONTRIBUTIONS--Total contributions received, as reported to the Federal Elections Commission (FEC).
- TOTAL INDIVIDUAL CONTRIBUTIONS--Total contributions made by individuals, as reported to the FEC.
- TOTAL POLITICAL ACTION COMMITTEE (PAC) CONTRIBUTIONS--Total contributions made by PACs and other candidates' committees, as reported to the FEC.
- TOTAL FROM FINANCE, INSURANCE & REAL ESTATE PACS--Includes banks, stock brokerage & investment firms, insurance and real estate companies, accountants, commodities brokers and all other financial services.
- TOTAL FROM LABOR PACS--Includes all varieties of labor union PACs.
- TOTAL FROM HEALTH PACS--Includes doctors and health care providers, pharmaceutical companies, hospitals and nursing homes, health services such as HMOs. Insurance providers are found under the Finance, Insurance and Real Estate PACs heading.

SENATE RATINGS

THE UNITED STATES SENATE

Performance Evaluations

Many national organizations identify and take a position on congressional votes that they feel are key to their issue area. The following evaluations show the percentage of the time that each senator voted with an organization's preferred position during a given year or years. All evaluations are in percentage form.

It is very important to remember that, by definition, these special interest group ratings are biased—they do not represent a non-partisan stance. Rather than selecting votes based solely on issue concerns, some groups select votes that tend to favor one political party over another. However, they can be a valuable representation of where your senators have stood on a series of votes over an extended period of time, especially when ratings by groups on varying sides of an issue are compared.

The easiest way to review these percentages is to place each organization and candidate in the following sentence: "On the votes that (organization name) considered to be most important in (rating year), Senator (name) voted their preferred position (rating) percent of the time."

Rating Group Key

1. ABORTION--National Abortion and Reproductive Rights Action League (1998 ratings)
2. ABORTION--National Right to Life Committee (1997-1998 ratings)
3. ENVIRONMENT--League of Conservation Voters (1998 ratings)
4. PROPERTY--League of Private Property Voters (1997-1998 ratings)
5. SENIORS--National Council of Senior Citizens (1998 ratings)
6. SENIORS--60 Plus Association (1997-1998 ratings)
7. CIVIL LIBERTIES--American Civil Liberties Union (1997-1998 ratings)
8. FAMILY--Christian Coalition (1997-1998 ratings)
9. HEALTH--American Public Health Association (1998 ratings)
10. BUSINESS--United States Chamber of Commerce (1998 ratings)
11. CONSUMER--Consumer Federation of America (1998 ratings)
12. LABOR--United Auto Workers (1998 ratings)
13. TAXES/SPENDING--National Taxpayer's Union (1998 ratings)
14. EDUCATION--National Education Association (1997-1998 ratings)
15. GUN ISSUES--Coalition to Stop Gun Violence (1999 ratings)
16. GUN ISSUES--Gun Owners of America (1999 ratings)

This manual has 16 performance evaluations. We have attempted to present as diverse and balanced a sampling of our evaluations as possible, but with over 80 special interest groups in our database, it is impossible to include them all in this manual. You can find out how your senators were rated by groups that are not listed here by calling 1-888-VOTE-SMART or going to <http://www.vote-smart.org>.

HOUSE CAMPAIGN FINANCE INFORMATION

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Campaign Finance

Where do candidates get the money to run for office? The information in this section is designed to help answer that question and was provided by the Center for Responsive Politics (www.opensecrets.org). It is the most complete finance information available at press time. We have tried to present the data in a clear and functional format, but if you have any questions, please call our Voter's Research Hotline at 1-888-VOTE SMART.

Unless indicated by an asterisk (*), the six categories represent the full cycle campaign data from January 1, 1997 through December 31, 1998. For partial cycle or more recent information, you can either call our Voter's Research Hotline or visit the Vote Smart Web at www.vote-smart.org.

HOUSE RATINGS

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Performance Evaluations

Many national organizations identify and take a position on congressional votes that they feel are key to their issue area. The following evaluations show the percentage of the time that each representative voted with an organization's preferred position during a given year or years. All evaluations are in percentage form.

It is very important to remember that, by definition, these special interest group ratings are biased—they do not represent a non-partisan stance. Rather than selecting votes based solely on issue concerns, some groups select votes that tend to favor one political party over another. However, they can be a valuable representation of where your representatives have stood on a series of votes over an extended period of time, especially when ratings by groups on varying sides of an issue are compared.

The easiest way to review these percentages is to place each organization and candidate in the following sentence: "On the votes that (organization name) considered to be most important in (rating year), Representative (name) voted their preferred position (rating) percent of the time."

Rating Group Key

1. ABORTION--National Abortion and Reproductive Rights Action League (1998 ratings)
2. ABORTION--National Right to Life Committee (1997-1998 ratings)
3. ENVIRONMENT--League of Conservation Voters (1998 ratings)
4. PROPERTY--League of Private Property Voters (1997-1998 ratings)
5. SENIORS--National Council of Senior Citizens (1998 ratings)
6. SENIORS--60 Plus Association (1997-1998 ratings)
7. CIVIL LIBERTIES--American Civil Liberties Union (1997-1998 ratings)
8. FAMILY--Christian Coalition (1997-1998 ratings)
9. HEALTH--American Public Health Association (1998 ratings)
10. BUSINESS--United States Chamber of Commerce (1998 ratings)
11. CONSUMER--Consumer Federation of America (1998 ratings)
12. LABOR--United Auto Workers (1998 ratings)
13. TAXES/SPENDING--National Taxpayer's Union (1998 ratings)
14. EDUCATION--National Education Association (1997-1998 ratings)
15. GUN ISSUES--Coalition to Stop Gun Violence (1999 ratings)
16. GUN ISSUES--Gun Owners of America (1999 ratings)

This manual has 16 performance evaluations. We have attempted to present as diverse and balanced a sampling of our evaluations as possible, but with over 80 special interest groups in our database, it's impossible to include them all. You can find out how your representatives were rated by groups that are not listed here by calling 1-888-VOTE-SMART or going to <http://www.vote-smart.org>.

STATE LEVEL INFORMATION

Thanks to countless hours of research and data entry by our interns and volunteers, the Voter's Self-Defense System covers your own state legislative and gubernatorial candidates. When the Project first started, we tracked 1,500 candidates. In the 1996 presidential election, Project Vote Smart took on 13,000 candidates, and we're doing it again for the 2000 presidential election! Hotline researchers are ready to answer any questions you might have regarding...

- ★ Responses to the State Legislative and Gubernatorial National Political Awareness Tests (NPAT) on issues important in your state
- ★ Biographical Information
- ★ Campaign Finance Data
- ★ Contact Numbers for gubernatorial & legislative candidates and incumbents
- ★ State Election Offices
- ★ County Election Offices
- ★ Legislative Reference Numbers
- ★ Voter Registration
- ★ Candidate Filing Deadlines
- ★ Ballot Initiatives
- ★ and much more!

Or you can visit the Vote Smart Web at <http://www.vote-smart.org>, click on "Candidates and Elected Officials" and then "State Legislators," or "Governors" and you'll find a list of states. Choose your own state, or scroll down the page to look up your representatives using your nine-digit zip code. That will provide you with a list including the President, Vice-President, your senators and representative in Congress, your Governor and Lt. Governor, state assembly member and state senator. From there, you can access the wealth of information Project Vote Smart has collected about each.

State Level NPATs

After each state's primary, the National Political Awareness Test (NPAT) is sent to every candidate for legislative and gubernatorial office. These state specific NPATs are tailored to address the key issues candidates are likely to face in the next legislative session if elected. The NPAT is a comprehensive issues questionnaire that is researched and written by experts in the fields of political science and survey design. Find out where your state gubernatorial and legislative candidates stand on the issues, when they are asking for your vote! To obtain individual responses, or other information about the candidates, just visit the Vote Smart Web or call the researchers at our Voter's Research Hotline at:

Did you know?

Please join us...

In order to join our Founding Board, PVS supporters must join with a political enemy. Members include George McGovern and Barry Goldwater, Mark Hatfield and Geraldine Ferraro, and 40 other prominent national leaders.

Over 90% of those working for PVS are volunteers and student interns. The few salaried staff members accept only modest wages.

Project Vote Smart does not lobby for or against any legislation, nor support or oppose any candidate.

To ensure absolute independence and integrity, the Project refuses all corporate and special interest group contributions. We depend solely on small donations from members or philanthropic foundations.

Through the exhaustive efforts of hundreds of volunteers and student interns, we are able to bring you this Voter's Self-Defense System.

Knowledge is the source of all public power. If you are one who both understands how crucial this Project is in our struggle to self-govern, and are financially able, please join us by becoming a member. See page 8 for details.

What they're saying about Project Vote Smart

"You and your colleagues at Project Vote Smart came through magnificently and I am both impressed with your efforts and grateful for them... You are a bright light in an often desultory civic culture of the moment."

Bill Moyers

"We think so highly of this that we are distributing their materials to all of our affiliates."

Gary Anderson, Vice-President, CNN

"For reliable, meat-and-potatoes political information, research experts nearly all recommend Project Vote Smart. It's so good that even the federal government's own Congressional portal, Thomas, named for Thomas Jefferson and his famous advocacy of the free flow of government information, recommends it."

New York Times

"Before the year ends, let me salute some folks who make politics better... week after week, for as much as 21 hours a day, a cadre of volunteers and college interns manned the phones at Project Vote Smart."

David Broder, Washington Post
